classification of brushes. Two or three commonly used brushes should be prepared, one painting bright part and one painting dark part. Or one painting warm tone, one painting cold tone. So you don't have to clean your brushes as often. When painting, the brush is dirty, you can directly use a cut newspaper to wipe, if you feel dirty, you can use turpentine rinse gently, and then wipe with a newspaper. If kept properly, brushes can last for years. Most importantly, the brush should be cleaned after each painting. Wipe the excess paint off the brush with a cloth. Rinse brush with thinner Rinse brush with warm soapy water until all paint is completely removed from brush. When placing the brush in the container, make sure the tip of the brush is placed upwards.oil brush should be used every day after the use of warm water with detergent (household detergent for oil cleaning is very strong) soak for 10 minutes, but do not soak to the brush holder will soak the paint. Then use laundry soap to wash the bristles carefully, be sure to draw the bristles vertically from the palm of the hand, completely wash the color of the pen root. If the color of the pen root is not cleaned for a long time, it will accumulate, which is virtually equal to the length of the pen hair becomes shorter. What is more,to insist on every day after washing. Wash the paint thoroughly, squeeze out the moisture, and wrap the paper in a pencil shape for later use. This will keep your brush as good as the new one every time you paint.
